From the Principal

In recent weeks, we have been working towards the selection and announcement of our College Student Leaders for 2018. At the Awards Night last Thursday, we officially acknowledged our new College Captains and thanked our 2017 Captains for their contribution to the Saint Mary's community.

Research would suggest that providing opportunities for young people to participate in student leadership may have a range of important benefits for them as individuals, for the school and for the broader community. Specifically, experience in genuine leadership and decision-making practices can help students to develop the skills necessary for active participation as engaged citizens, both now and in the future. At Saint Mary's, we have developed an inclusive leadership structure that endeavours to involve as many students as possible, as the evidence suggests that those who benefit the most from leadership programs are the students who are directly involved. This year, we will have two College Captains, six House Captains and several student led committees. This structure provides avenues for all our Year 12 students to be heard, to collaborate with adults in our community, and to build their capacity for leadership in other areas of their life.

Our College Captains and our House Captains have been announced. The Committee Leaders and members will be determined during the coming week. Congratulations to the following students:

School Fees, 2018

Included with this week's newsletter you will find our updated Fee Schedule for 2018. A student in a Catholic School receives, on average, 17% less government funding than a student in a Government school. 71% of our funding comes from Government; the remaining 29% is generated through school fees paid by parents and carers. Without this financial contribution from families, Catholic schools would not be able to provide equitable access to resources and the quality of the education we could provide would suffer.

This year we have again followed the Brisbane Catholic Education guidelines for a school fee increase of 3.0%. This keeps our College at the minimum fee cost for Catholic schools in our Archdiocese. We have made this decision in our local context to keep our fees as affordable as possible. It is central to our ethos that we remain financially accessible to all, especially to those who can least afford a Catholic education.

Each year, we strive to ensure that our levies reflect the actual costs of materials, camps and excursions for each subject so that families receive value for money. We are making some minor adjustments to a couple of secondary elective levies, but generally, they will remain consistent with the 2017 rates. Largely the Primary general levy will remain at the current 2017 rate. The exception is the Year 4 levy which needs to be increased by $50 to cover the violin program that starts in Year 3 and continues in Year 4. It occurred as a trial this year and, as it is continuing, will now need to be built into the levies. The removal of a camp from the list of scheduled activities for Year 5 sees a reduction in their general levy of $120. A significant restructure of the secondary camp and activities program for 2018 has bought a reduction in the general levy for all secondary year levels. Year 8 and Year 9 have seen the largest reduction as, while they will have some new activities, their camp has been removed from the budget costings.

Please remember that means-tested fee concessions are available for struggling families. If you are having any problems with the payment of fees, you are encouraged to contact the College for support.

Celebration of the Arts

I am looking forward to seeing many of you at this week's Celebration of the Arts. On Thursday evening, the Maryknoll Centre will be filled with art, music, dance and drama performances. I am sure that the event will be a fantastic showcase of all the wonderful work that has been happening in our arts subjects across 2017.

God bless

Head of Primary News

Thank you everyone for a lovely evening on Thursday, celebrating the gifts of the students of Saint Mary's Catholic College. We are doing a review of the evening to see where we can reduce some of the time to make it an earlier evening. There are a few items up for review. We were very fortunate that the weather held for us. At 2.30pm when we had to make the call – to cancel or not to cancel – the weather pattern at that time indicated that the storm would bypass us. And it did!

Thank you to the teachers who went with the Year 4, 5, 6s to the various sports around the district. For many, if not most, of the students this would be the first time they have played against a team from another school. While we learn some of the skills here at school in the PE lessons, it is still a daunting task to head off and play the game. It's a fun way to meet other students from around the district. It's not about win or lose. It's about participation, having a go at something new and meeting new people, or indeed catching up with old classmates.

At the back of this newsletter are some ideas you can share with your child about what to do at morning tea or lunch. Have a look through and remind your child of some of the options on any given day.

Take care and God Bless

Awards Night

Last Thursday evening was a wonderful evening to showcase the exceptional efforts of our students. Congratulations to all our award recipients and there were quite a few. Thank you to all the parents who attended to support their students. It is important that students see that their parents are interested in them and what they do at school. It was a great occasion to see many students from Prep to Year 12 congratulated for their efforts throughout the past year.

I would like to thank our many guests who presented awards and also those organisations who sponsored our awards. We greatly appreciated your attendance and support.

The night would not have been the success that it was without the efforts of many staff, students and parents. I would like to thank Mrs Iszlaub, Miss Woodruff, our musicians and stage managers for their performances, as well as Mrs Martoo and students for the floral decorations. Thanks you to parents who donated flowers so the hall would look so beautiful.

Our guest speaker on the night was Matthew Rutley. Matthew graduated from Saint Mary's in 2001 and during his speech he told us about his exploits in the intervening years between then and now. He qualified and worked as a jeweller on leaving school, has operated heavy machinery in the mining industry, clowned on the Central Queensland rodeo circuit, played semi-professional rugby union overseas, as well as working as a high school rugby coach, boxing coach and as a Cross Fit coach amongst other things. He currently owns a Gym 'Stage 6 Health and Fitness' in the northern suburbs of Brisbane.

realise your dignity

His message was very clear during his speech: take up the opportunities that are afforded to you in everyday life. They are always there. Matt spoke of the lessons learnt from past endeavours which helped him move to the next challenge that presented itself. During the past 16 years, he set his mind to the things he had the ability to achieve. He had goals and worked to achieve them.

He spoke about self-discipline and its importance, his eye for detail, the opportunities he undertook to teach himself skills or learn from others and then his opportunity to pass those skills on to others. He had courage to step outside his comfort zone and to hold his ground in difficult situations. His message is summarised in 'the more experiences you have, the more opportunities will open up for you, but it's up to the individual to have the courage to seize those opportunities.'

The most valuable process though he said was in learning. The more new things you learn the better you get at learning new things. He talked about adaptability – the ability to take something one has learnt into a new endeavour. You never know what life will throw at you and one's adaptability makes one able to change. The value of learning that wasn't in whether or not you would use a skill learnt, the value was in learning something new. Whilst you may believe you know where you'll end up, you may not, but what matters is how adaptable you are and how open to change you are. If you try something new and it doesn't work out, take what you've learned and move on. Everyone has the ability to learn. That is the importance of school; it offers you the opportunity to learn how to learn if you embrace it. It is important to change your mindset so you become interested in the learning itself so that it will become invaluable.

We thank Matthew for travelling to Kingaroy to speak to us and appreciate his valuable message.

Bus transport

Can I please ask parents of students who travel on the bus to speak to their students about their safety on the bus.

I have recently had parents and members of the public and the bus company ask me to speak to students about their behaviour on the bus.

Students are reminded that if the bus is fitted with seatbelts these MUST be worn. They are not optional! Students must also remain seated while the bus is moving. There have been reports of students standing up on the buses and moving around whilst it is moving. This is not safe.

Students are to be respectful of each other and the bus driver whilst travelling on the bus. Students cannot 'bar' a seat for their friend/s. It is a case of 'first in, first served'. Students should not be harassing or bullying students in younger grades to get their seat of choice or to save a seat for others. This is not what we expect of students of Saint Mary's Catholic College.

Be Safe, Be Respectful, Be Responsible, Be Just and Be Your Best. I think if a student takes all our Benedictine Values into consideration then we will have none of the issues that have arisen over the past few weeks.

Can I again draw your attention to the Code of Conduct for students travelling on buses. This applies to all our students.

<https://translink.com.au/sites/default/files/assets/resources/travel-with-us/school-travel/code-of-conduct-for-students-travelling-on-buses.pdf>

Pursers has the right to refuse to transport students if they are unable to meet the requirements of the code. I would not like to see that happen to a student from Saint Mary's. Students should remember that when in uniform, they are representing our College.

Year 12 Exam timetable

The exam timetable for Year 12 students will be distributed this week. Exam Block for Year 12 students runs from Monday 6 November until Friday 10 November. Whilst Monday 13 November is a normal school day for all Year 12 students, catch up exams will be held during this time unless a teacher requires the student to sit it earlier. Students (and parents) are reminded that in fairness to all students, students who are absent from a test/exam on a day must have a medical certificate in order to sit the exam at a later date. Once the majority of the cohort has sat a test, the integrity of that test/exam is compromised for other students who have yet to sit the test.

If your child is unable to attend a test, please contact the office on the day of the exam. This is a very busy time for teachers as QCAA expects information about exam results and final rank orders and SAIs in a timely fashion and with non-negotiable timelines. Consequently, it is imperative that assessment is completed on time – with the exception of those students with a medical certificate.

Students may remain at home to study but are welcome at school to see teachers for help. A study area will be set up in the library for students to access as well. Students MUST be in uniform if they are coming to school.

Year 11 students – Exams and Work Experience

Year 11 students will have their exam block from Friday 10 November through to Friday 17 November. Please see information above

realise your dignity

(under Year 12 Exam Timetables) as this information applies to Year 11 students as well.

Following exam block, Year 11 students will attend one week of Work Experience. This will be from Monday 20 November through to Friday 24 November. Work Experience folders containing all information pertaining to Work Experience were sent home last week with the students.

Formal

The Year 12 formal and Valedictory dinner invitations were sent home (by mail) on Friday. The invitation contains all necessary information for students. Please contact the office this coming Friday if you have not received the letter.

All Saints and All Souls Day

Yesterday was the eve of All Hallows (all saints) and today is the feast of All Saints Day. All Saints Day is a day where the Catholic Church officially recognises those people who lived exceptional lives, some in less than ordinary circumstances and who by canon law, are believed to have reached heaven. Most days of the year have a Saint attributed to them and the stories of these people are often very inspirational. Undeniably there are billions of Saints, souls that have reached heaven, that are not recognised and this link is made by the very next day, All Souls Day. All Souls day recognises the faithfully departed and is a time for those they have left behind to remember them.

The College would like to offer the opportunity for students to reflect and pray for lost loved ones without stirring up too much emotion. Obviously, Christmas, birthdays and other special family times are sacred to families and friends who mourn however there are students and staff who don't share their loss or who are waiting for an opportunity to recognise their loss and honour with pride someone close to them who has died.

To this end students and staff are invited to place the name of someone they have lost on a register collected today in class. Tomorrow in the library at morning tea and lunch these names will be on a screen on loop and we are all invited to sit and reflect on these lives, the good and the difficult moments.

Kind regards

Mr Martin Perrett

All in all, forty-eight students graced the stage, playing a diverse and thoroughly enjoyable program; from music theatre ballads to the Beatles to Paul Kelly. Thank you to our Music Tutors - Mrs Shannon Cridge, Mrs Nadine Smith, Mr Grant Jeppesen, Mrs Jo Town and Mrs Jo Kennedy – none of this would be possible without their dedication to the College Music Tuition Program and our young musicians.

The Art Gallery opens at 5:30pm, with several musicians providing music until the more formal performance begins at 6pm. These students should be at the Maryknoll by 5:15pm.

Singing Masterclass – Saturday 11 November

Year 4 Community Excursion

On Monday 30th October, The Year 4 Class visited the Kingaroy Museum, the Art Gallery, The Nanango Energy Centre and The Endeavour Biscuit Factory. Highlights of the Excursion were the history of farming and daily life in Kingaroy and the South Burnett. It was great to experiment using and playing with the gadgets at the Energy Centre and to gain more understanding about the past and the ways electrical and mechanical energy was used. It's interesting to compare it to the ways in which we use energy today. The students really enjoyed their tour of the Biscuit Factory. We decorated our chocolate men biscuits.

Year 4 students could see how people in our community who have overcome many obstacles in their lives, make the most of their talents and abilities.

It's a fantastic opportunity to see others making a positive contribution in our community.

Thank you to Mr Mulcahy and Ms Wicks for accompanying us. Thank you to all the volunteers who welcomed and educated us today.

Good News Story

Tin commenced his secondary schooling at Saint Mary's Catholic College as a Year 11 student in 2012. This young man was a part of a refugee family from Vietnam that was resettled in Kingaroy. He struggled with the English language in particular the areas of speaking, reading and writing.

Tin has high praise for his teachers and learning support team in his time at Saint Mary's Catholic College. He appreciated their kind ways, time and support towards him when he was a student at our college.

In fact, Tin told me that if it was not for those dedicated people he would not be where he is today.

To his credit he did work experience at Kingaroy Joinery in 2012 and was offered an apprenticeship at the end of 2013. Tin also graduated in Year 12 of 2013 at Saint Mary's Catholic College.

He completed his apprenticeship in July 2017 and was awarded with an Australian Glass Glazing Association Industry Award in Residential Fabrication.

Tin has excelled and has developed good English, speaking, reading and writing skills and lives a very happy life as a young man in Kingaroy.
