Dear Parents, Carers and Friends of Saint Mary’s,

In last Sunday’s Gospel we heard the story of Jesus being anointed by a sinful woman.

In this account from the Gospel of Luke, Jesus has been invited to share a meal at the house of one of the Pharisees. As He is eating and talking at the table, there is a woman, weeping by His feet. Her tears are falling on His feet and she is anointing Him with an expensive perfume. Then she kneels, takes her hair and wipes His feet and kisses them. Jesus, who knew her heart and her motives, calmly stays as he is and lets her express her love and repentance in her own way. He is not embarrassed, uncomfortable or annoyed. He simply accepts her as she is. His hosts, on the other hand, observe the scene with disapproval. What is this notorious woman doing in HIS house? And why has Jesus let her do this to Him? Doesn’t he know what kind of woman she is?

How often do we make judgements about others without fully knowing them or their story? As humans, we can be very quick to put people into boxes without any knowledge of who they are inside, what they have been through and how they have become the person they are today. How much more loving, compassionate and accepting of others would we be if we took the time to listen to and know others without making our own inferences and judgements based solely on what we see and hear? After hearing this Sunday’s Gospel, that is a challenge I hope we might all take up.

WORKING BEE – THANKYOU!
A huge thank you to our Parents and Friends Association who spent a large part of Sunday afternoon at our working bee. The end result is a lovely new outdoor garden area for our staff. It was in desperate need of a makeover and is now a much more welcoming environment.

LITTLE MERMAID MUSICAL
The Saint Mary's Catholic College production of Disney's, The Little Mermaid Jnr, is being held on Wednesday, 22 June in the Maryknoll Centre at 6pm. This will be a wonderful performance and one not to be missed. Tickets are available from the College office or via QKR and are selling fast! For those worried about the fact that is State of Origin night… I have been assured that you will be home in time to see the game… so no excuses.

PLEASE NOTE
In a recent match report involving our Under 15 Rugby League team mention was made the game was called off due to foul play.

The statement was incorrect and the matter has been resolved between the 2 schools.

If you have any concerns or queries please do not hesitate to contact me.

At the College next week there will be an opportunity for parents to come along and purchase some of our excess stock of our old College uniform. Prices will range from $2 to $10 depending on the item. More details to follow.

Stig Wemyss – Great performance by Mr. Wemyss. The children really had a lot of fun. This performance may help them to understand an author's intent and the use of direct speech. Ask your child to read one of their books, following the example of Stig Wemyss!

Cold Days – The woollen green jumper is the formal uniform jumper. The track suit jacket is for sport days. However, on cold days both may be worn. If you do not have a woollen jumper, and it is on order, you may wear the track suit jacket. No other jackets or jumpers are part of our uniform. If there is an exception, then please send a note to your child's teacher.

Formal Uniform Formal uniform is to be worn on Tuesdays. However, if your child has sport or HPE on a Tuesday they may wear their sport uniform on Tuesdays. On special occasions such as whole school Mass, it is expected that all students at Saint Mary's College wear their full and correct formal uniform.

Benedictine Awards and Athletics Carnival – last week of school – Thursday and Friday. Thursday is for Year 5 through to Year 12. This will also affect some Year 4 students. On Friday Benedictine Awards begin the day at 9.00am this is followed by the sprints P-12 up on the top oval. Parents are most welcome and the whole school will come off the oval for morning tea at 11.00am. Tea and coffee will be available for parents in the canteen of the Maryknoll Centre. Relays begin after morning tea on Friday and all events should be finished by 12.30pm. The normal school day will resume in Period 5 and 6.

Catholic Education by the numbers

More than 760,000 students are attending 1,731 Catholic schools in 2016. Across Australia, one in five school students is in a Catholic school.

Saint Mary's Catholic College is part of Brisbane Catholic Education.

Our 545 students are part of over 70,000 students in Catholic schools in the Archdiocese.

Our 78 staff at SMCC are part of over 11,000 staff employed by BCE.

There are over 91,000 teachers in Catholic Schools across Australia.

The number of students with disability in Catholic schools has doubled since 2004. The majority of those students attend mainstream schools, but there are also a number of Catholic special schools.

The number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students in Catholic schools has doubled since 2004. In some remote communities, a Catholic school is the only education provider.

In 2014, Catholic school parents paid $3.1 billion in fees to support their children's education. Catholic school parents paid, on average, $4,131 in fees and other private income in 2014 to support their child's education.

In 2014, Governments provided $7.5 billion to support students in Catholic schools.

Arrangements next two weeks for Years 7-12

Next Thursday and Friday is the College Athletics carnival. Students in years 7-12 are expected to participate in both days and support their house.

Benedictine Awards will be presented on Friday morning (9-00am, 24th June) in the Maryknoll Centre, before the sprints and relays.

School finishes Friday, 24th June at 2-55pm.

Formal Uniform-Tuesday every week
Today was a massive improvement in wearing the formal uniform for years 7-12. Jumpers or jackets may be worn with the formal uniform for the duration of winter. Students who do not have a formal uniform (old or new style) are expected to purchase one in the coming weeks. Please contact me if this is an issue for you and I will be able to help.

Good news story-Year 11/12 Maths C
Mr Dunbrack has informed me that students in Year 11 and 12 Mathematics C are achieving great results this semester. Congratulations to this class and I commend you on the hard work you are putting in to achieve this excellent result.

I am sure there are other classes in Years 7-12 who are achieving excellent results and I will highlight them over the coming weeks.

Semester One Reporting and Parent Teacher Interviews
Semester 1 Reports go online
Parents and carers should note that this semester's student reports will, for the first time, be posted to parent portals (on-line) and not printed. The parent portals will be used more frequently in the future, with reports, Naplan results, and other material all being sent to the parent portal rather than printed copies posted home.

Parents without internet facilities or with a particular need to receive printed version will still be able to access a printed version from the College. We keep a list of such circumstances.

We are hopeful that we can follow the timeline below during this end of semester period:

- Issue of reports: Monday, 27th June.
- PTO Interviews open: Monday, 27th June.
- PTO Interviews close: Monday, 18th July.
- Parent Teacher Interviews: Tuesday, 26th July.

Validation of Religious Education Program
Last Thursday Mr Lawrie Ross, Mrs Sarah McCarthy and I presented the College’s Religious Education Program to a panel of Brisbane Education delegates. The presentation was the culmination of a year’s work designed to show how our College implements the Religious Education Curriculum and incorporates the curriculum with the religious life of life the College.

We received full Validation and what was more encouraging, is the potential for growth, especially in the delivery of the curriculum. We were fortunate to see how Siena Catholic College, Sunshine Coast, implements their program and it highlighted the very different contexts our schools exist in. We are part of something even bigger that is at the heart of what we do; educate students who are challenged to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ and who are literate in the Catholic and broader Christian tradition so that they might participate critically and authentically if faith contexts and wider society.

As a result of the process of validation the College receives recommendations and commendations which are endorsed by the Director of Catholic Education and Archbishop Mark Coleridge. I look forward to working through these and, as part of these, I plan to publish a link on the College Website that details:

- Aims and shape of Religious Education in the 21st Century
- How the curriculum is delivered, and our scope and sequence of learning in each year level
- the Religious events and activities that distinguish us from others including Religious Identity and Culture, Prayer and Worship, Evangelisation and Faith Formation and Social Justice and Action

I would publically like to thank Siena College for sharing their story and expertise and Mr Ross and Mrs McCarthy for their support and professionalism throughout the process.

SOR Trip to Brisbane
Next Monday and Tuesday the Year 12 Study of Religion class will travel to Brisbane to visit and experience a small aspect of four other Religions, two of which are the other great monotheistic religions, Islam and Judaism.

The Study of Religion Syllabus requires students to investigate many religions throughout the two year course, so this trip aims to consolidate what they have already learnt as well as support the final two units they complete this year. The Year 11 class will do the same trip toward the end of Term 3 this year. This will place them for the rest of their senior study.

Who Me, Defensive? - By Linda Adams
In your relationships at work and at home, you know the discomfort you feel when you become defensive and the unease you feel when you sense it in others. When we feel threatened, defensiveness or resistance is our initial, natural, perhaps inevitable reaction. We would probably be surprised if we stopped to think how much energy we use up resisting new ideas, blocking unwelcome feedback, defending our position. The reaction is so automatic, the habit so deeply ingrained that often we aren’t conscious of being in a defensive or resistant posture.

Defensiveness is an unwanted, uncomfortable feeling—it causes disequilibrium. Our urge is to make it go away by trying to ignore it or denying its existence even though this is often at an unconscious level. Most of us have become highly skilled at ignoring the inner cues that we’re resisting—often pretending like everything’s okay without being aware that we’re doing so. When this happens, whatever feelings or fears or truth lie underneath the resistance remain hidden.

Why does this matter so much? Because each and every time you pretend that everything is okay when you feel resistant, you avoid looking at, exploring and examining what’s underlying your defensive reaction. As a result, while you may gain self-protection for the moment, what you lose is a valuable opportunity to get more insight into yourself, to learn more about who you are, to be open to a new way of thinking or being, to be fully alive.

Accepting Resistance in Yourself
Admitting to yourself that you feel defensive or resistant is often very difficult. We feel that it’s a sign of weakness or vulnerability—a part of us we cannot allow others to see, especially at work. So there’s a strong tendency to resist accepting that yes, right now, I’m feeling threatened because my boss wants to see me or someone has challenged my point of view in a meeting or my spouse is upset with me or my teenager won’t talk to me.

This inner resistance confronts us with the possibility that something might need to change which most likely involves us. Often we resist change because it means something new and yet unknown. There’s comfort in the familiar even when it isn’t working. Maintaining the status quo seems safer—it’s what we know. So we justify why we don’t delegate even though it means we work far too many hours and are exhausted much of the time; we make excuses for why we stay in a job we have begun to dread; we deny that our relationship with our spouse isn’t satisfying.

The price we pay for continually refusing to uncover and examine what’s beneath the resistance is that we remain stuck, surviving, making do—not living life to its fullest.

To accept your resistance as a natural part of you and to open yourself up to discovering what’s beneath it requires an inner shift—a shift from seeing the resistance as a bothersome feeling to be avoided to seeing it as an opportunity or even as a gift—because it’s a signal that there’s something more.

Accepting Resistance in Others
Just as we feel unease with our own feelings of defensiveness, we don’t like to experience it from others with whom we interact. We’ve all heard people say things like:

‘We’ve already tried that.’
‘It would cost too much (take too long, etc.).’
‘I’m too tired right now.’

Even when we confront a co-worker, a spouse or a child with a perfect I-Message, they sometimes will react defensively:

‘I did not do that’
‘I don’t want to talk about it’
‘Why are you bringing this up again? You know I’m already stressed out.’

realise your dignity
Reactions like this can cause you to feel defensive and it’s very tempting to respond in kind. But we’ve all done that and know for sure that it doesn’t work—the interaction becomes an escalating argument or the conversation shuts down. When this happens, not only does the issue or problem not get resolved, the relationship suffers damage.

To avoid that from occurring, it’s important to shift gears to hear the other person’s feelings. By actively listening, you send a very important message to him/her: “I see that you’re upset and I want to hear your concerns.”

Utilizing Resistance

In yourself: become more conscious of what causes you to become resistant or defensive. Instead of denying that inner signal, respect it, give it your attention, listen to it—accept it as an invaluable part of yourself that is offering you an opportunity to challenge an old pattern, to learn what’s true for you and to move toward actualizing more of who you’re capable of being.

In others: become more alert to the signals they give out when they’re feeling resistant and make a conscious effort to listen to them with acceptance, empathy and understanding. Listening with acceptance gives the other person a chance to vent their feelings and as a result gives them the opportunity to probe below their resistance to discover what’s beneath. They too have a valuable opportunity to discover more about themselves. Further, the relationship between you is strengthened.

Year 2 Classroom News

It has been an exciting term in Year 2. Each day has been full of engaging learning activities focused on taking every student to the next step in their learning.

In History, the students compared old and new technologies and identified how these everyday items may have changed over time.

This work led children to look closely at toys, electrical household appliances and communications technology.

In Science, the Year 2 class got their hands dirty while examining the nature of mixtures. The fun learning included making Goo and Jelly mixtures.

We have been learning about stories about Jesus in our Religion lessons and welcomed Mr. Perrett to our room to talk to us about our important Saint Mary's School Community. Each day our class engaged in meaningful prayer rituals when we share songs, stories and offered prayer in the Catholic spiritual tradition.

We have regularly read some wonderfully written children's stories, including texts 'The Twits' and 'Fantastic Mr. Fox', both written by the inspiring author Roahl Dahl. These quality texts were central to the learning of reading in our class.

We all look forward to many new learning adventures in Term 3.

Cast Members Speak Up

Saint Mary's is presenting The Little Mermaid in a cross-curricular performance by students who study the Arts. I was fortunate enough to be able to interview some of the cast members during rehearsals this week. Candice Pratt, who plays the role of both Flotsam and one of the gulls, explained that she was pleased to be given the opportunity to play these roles. ‘From the start I really enjoyed what the roles could offer. I feel as if even though this role isn’t a major part, it still offers a range of opportunities in all dancing, acting and singing. In order to prepare for this role I not only have to learn lines but also prepare my own costumes and make up’.

Brylie Murray, who has the main acting role of Ursula says, ‘I wanted to play this character because I feel it fits my personality’. When asked about rehearsals, Brylie commented that ‘rehearsals so far have gone well, however I will need to become one with my role’. Despite this, nerves are not an issue for Brylie. She seems to be confident in her ability to play the role.

The main role of Ariel was given to Lydia Penny after her successful audition. Lydia, who initially wanted to play Ursula, is happy with the role of Ariel because she ‘likes the storyline and how it betrays a young girl finding herself’. When it comes to rehearsals, Lydia decided that, ‘It has been hard to organise my spare time as I have other commitments outside of school but they have been progressing nicely’. Lydia admits that she is a little nervous about the show. ‘Mainly in my acting as I have to be able to learn my lines and put expression into my voice to sell my part in the show’.

Bridget McDonald, who plays the voiceless parts of the Ariel role as well as one of the gulls, admits ‘I love the movie and I wanted to explore other parts the performing arts. I have to choreograph the dances and teach them to Prince Eric’. Bridget is not nervous about her performance. ‘I am used to performing in front of audiences’.

Sophie Woods is a lead dancer in the performance. ‘I love dancing and dancing roles suit me more than singing. I am stronger at dancing than singing. I need to learn the dance and get my costume ready’. Sophie has plenty of spare time this year, so the rehearsal schedule is not a problem. She is also very confident about her ability to carry the role of Lead Dancer. ‘I have been dancing for quite a while so I don’t get as nervous anymore’.

All in all, the Saint Mary's production of The Little Mermaid is shaping up to be a must see for 2016. The cast are committed to the show and are working hard to make it a top performance. Rehearsals are travelling along well and the teachers are supporting students through the process. This oldie but a goodie is a show not to be missed, so put it in your calendar and get your tickets now!

- Self Raising Flour
- Desiccated Coconut
- Plain Flour
- Brown Sugar
- Caster Sugar
- Small Tinned Pineapple Slices
- Small Tinned Corn

These can be dropped into the Tuckshop on Monday, Wednesday, Friday or to the College Office.

Ordering and Payment
We now have two options for ordering, online and the paper bag system. For Prep to Year 5 students it is recommended that you use either of these systems.

Online Ordering System QKR (Quicker): Your child’s online order will be sent to the tuckshop, where it will be printed out. The orders are filled and placed in the class baskets. Their baskets are collected at morning tea and lunch. You are not required to send in a paper bag once you have ordered online.

Paper Bag System: Your child’s order will be placed in the tuckshop baskets in their classroom in the mornings. The baskets are delivered to the tuckshop and orders are filled. Their baskets are collected at morning tea and lunch. Please do not use sticky tape or staples when using paper bags for ordering. It makes it difficult to get the bags undone without tearing. Plastic bags are not suitable for ordering, it is very difficult to place your child’s order inside them. Bags can be purchased from the tuckshop for .05c each.
Year 6 to Year 12 students are more than welcome to use either system. If using the paper bag system, students place their bag orders at the tuckshop before school.

Guest Speaker Today/Tonight
I just wanted again to highlight that there is a state P&F federation speaker coming to our lovely school to speak about Parent Engagement. I am sure he will do a great job at starting the conversation about Parent Engagement.

Come along and explore:
- What is Parent Engagement vs Involvement.
- How can school and parents work together for better educational outcomes of the students.
- What is the role of P&F?

Many of you are aware that I went to the P&F conference about Parent Engagement. At this conference my eyes were opened to this term "parent engagement" and the positive relationships and learning that can come from true parent engagement. It is really exciting stuff.

So, please consider coming along to one of the two sessions this Wednesday, 15th June.

Futsal News
Saint Mary’s Futsal teams have had an enormous week in Toowoomba. All the attending students managed to make the co-ordinators and attending Staff extremely proud with their effort, conduct and sportsmanship whilst away representing the College. Last week consisted of early mornings and 3 out of 4 late nights. Special thanks needs to go to all the parents who dedicated themselves to ensuring the students attended training afternoons over the past 6 weeks.

Our U12 boys were split into two teams a Maroon Team and a Green Team. Monday was a 5.45am start for the Boys who managed to keep Mr Erwin and Mrs Gartner thoroughly entertained on the 2 hour drive with their singing and Rap music. Both teams were set for 4 scheduled games each. Despite some losses throughout the day, spirits were continually high. The day ended with our Maroon team placing 4th in their pool and our Green team placing 1st in theirs. Saint Mary's Green went on to the Semi-Finals against a school with a dedicated Futsal Academy of Excellence. After a nail bighting 30 minutes, the boys were defeated 4-2. Our very quiet bus ride on the return to the College had us back at 7-30pm, and I am sure all the boys were very hard to remove from their beds the next morning!
Our U15 Boys decided to serenade Miss Inwood, Mrs Gartner, Mrs Clegg and Ms Roberts on our trip today. The Beachboys tunes were the favourite tunes for the morning.

The boys were set to play four games throughout the day and placed 4th within their pool; the boys played an outstanding level of Futsal but were unsuccessful in obtaining a win in any of their matches.

Thursday was our last day at the tournament and saw our U19 Boys Team excel throughout the day; it was the only day for the week where the departure time could almost be classed as a sleep in with a departure time of 7:45am. Mrs Clegg and Ms Roberts were joined for the day by our very valued Australian Representative coach Debbie Ovens. Our U19 boys managed to entertain these wonderful ladies all the way to Toowoomba and finished out the week with 4 wins, placing 1st in their pool.

Tuesday began at 6:45 for our two U14 Teams; yes you guessed it Maroon and Green again. The bus trip this time was a completely different atmosphere; our serious teens were quietly listening to the music and saving their energy for the upcoming matches. The Maroon team ended the day with 2 wins and 2 losses against some very tough opponents. Our Green team also ended the day with 2 wins and 2 losses placing both teams into 3rd place in their respective pools and unfortunately did not secure either team into the Semi-Finals.

realise your dignity

Wednesday was another 6.45am start for us and this time we were accompanied by the U14 Girls and the U15 Boys.

The U14 Girls were set to play three games for the day, the final tally was 2 losses and a draw which placed them 4th in their pool but failed to secure them in a position for the Semi-Finals.

Sadly despite a gallant effort, they were unsuccessful in the Semi-Finals.

Tracey and I would like to especially thank our Principal, Mrs Angela Myles for her unwavering support and belief in us, Mrs Michelle Rutley and Mrs Alice Hauritz for the many hours they spent emailing, sorting and printing. Mr Sean Erwin, Mrs Amanda Erwin, Miss Ellen Inwood and Ms Pauline Roberts for joining us and making the competition not only possible but a thoroughly enjoyable week.
